

Mahebourg is one of the most famous fishing village of Mauritius. It is built along the shore of the immense bay of Grand Port . Founded in 1804 by the French Governor Charles Decaen, Mahebourg witnessed the only Napoleonic naval victory over the English in 1810. This victory is also listed on the Arc de Triomphe in Paris. A major centre of economic life under French administration, Mahebourg was also known for its slave market. Full of emotions, it is one of the rare places on the island with this particular period of our history engraved in stone. This tour is unique and perfect for history lovers. Walk through the village of Mahebourg and discover its authenticity.
